

NYC Wine Report

This passage appeared on the homepage:

Chateau Lassegue '04

$45.00

This well-regarded estate has long been an anonymous source for many of the right bank's best producers. Now the chateau is labeling it's own efforts, thanks to a partnership formed by American vintner Jess Jackson. They've crafted a winner right out of the gate. Chateau Lassegue '04 is a complex, concentrated St. Emilion with a lovely cherry-scented nose, firm tannins and a forward but elegant fruit profile. A rarity. Young, balanced Bordeaux that provides immediate gratification.

Then, if the passage was clicked on, these details would appeared on a separate screen:

Chateau Lassegue '04

Rating 3.5 / 5

Producer Chateau Lassegue

From St. Emilion, Bordeaux

Varietal Merlot-dominated blend

Price $45.00

Availability* TWS

Key To Wine Shop Abbreviations:*

GRWC = Grand Wine Cellar, Syosset, NY, 888-614-Wine

KD = K&D Wines, 1366 Madison Ave., 212-289-1818

LIQWC = Liquor Outlet Wine Cellars, Boonton, NJ, 866-454-7688

WBTQ = Wine Boutique, Mt. Kisco, NY, 914-241-9463

WCHAT = WineChateau.com, Metuchen, NJ, 800-946-3190

This well-regarded estate has long been an anonymous source for many of the right bank's best producers. Now the chateau is labeling it's own efforts, thanks to a partnership formed by American vintner Jess Jackson. They've crafted a winner right out of the gate. Chateau Lassegue '04 is a complex, concentrated St. Emilion with a lovely cherry-scented nose, firm tannins and a forward but elegant fruit profile. A rarity. Young, balanced Bordeaux that provides immediate gratification.